HOURLY OF POWER OF 13.01.2008

PROGRAM OPENING/TRUMPET FANFARE/V.O.

From the Crystal Cathedral in Garden Grove, California, join Robert Schuller in an Hour of Power now celebrating our 37th year as the face and voice of positive Christianity to the world.

HYMN - "Joyful, Joyful.."

Joyful, joyful, we adore You, God of glory, Lord of love; Hearts unfold like flowers before You, opening to the sun above. Melt the clouds of sin and sadness; Drive the dark of doubt away; Giver of immortal gladness, fill us with the light of day. Amen! Amen! Amen!

GOOD MORNING/OPENING SENTENCE/INVOCATION

RAS: Good morning! And welcome to the Crystal Cathedral we're glad you're here. Because you're here, we're going to all worship God together and we're going to allow the spirit of God's love to flow through us as we shake hands right now with people who are standing next to us and behind us. Shake their hands and say God loves you and so do I and feel the love of God.

So at this time we're going to have a moment of prayer and we're going to thank God for all that He's doing in our lives. Dear Heavenly Father we thank You that You're a God of miracles, that You're a God who comes and transforms lives. You're a God who leads and directs and gives us the guidance we need to be the people that You've called us to be. So open our eyes and give us the vision and the understanding of what we are with You, Your children, Amen.

HYMN - "Rejoice the Lord is King Medley"

Rejoice the Lord is King: Your Lord and King adore! Rejoice, give thanks, and sing, and triumph evermore: Lift up your heart, lift up your voice! Rejoice, again I say, rejoice!

His Kingdom cannot fail, He rules o'er earth and heaven; The keys of death and hell are to our Jesus given. Lift up your heart! Lift up your voice, rejoice, again I say, rejoice!

'Tis so sweet to trust in Jesus, just to take Him at His word, just to rest upon His promise, just to know "Thus says the Lord." Jesus, Jesus, how I trust Him! How I've proved Him o'er and o'er! Jesus, Jesus, precious Jesus! O for grace to trust Him more!

Standing on the promises I cannot fall, listening every moment to the Spirit's call, trusting in my Savior as my all in all, standing on the promises of God. Standing, standing, standing on the promises of God my Savior. Standing, standing! I'm standing on the promises of God, of God.

SCRIPTURE – Psalm 18 - RHS

RHS: You may be seated. Hear the word of God. Amazing what wisdom is in this word. The words this morning are written by David who was a poet and a musician and sang his poetry in these words of praise:

I will love You oh Lord, my strength. The Lord is my rock, my fortress and my deliverer. My God, my strength in whom I will trust. My shield and my salvation, my stronghold. I will call upon the Lord who is worthy to be praised. As for God, His way is perfect. The word of the Lord is proven. He is a shield to all who trust in Him. For who is God besides the Lord? And who is a rock except our God? It is God who arms me with strength and makes my way perfect. He makes my feet like the feet of a deer and sets me on high places; Your gentleness, Lord, has made me great. You enlarge my path under me so that my feet did not slip. The Lord lives; blessed be my rock.

May God add His blessings to the reading of this, His word.

ANTHEM - "Mighty Fortress"

A mighty fortress is our God, a bulwark never failing; Our helper He amid the flood of mortal ills prevailing. For still our ancient foe doth seek to work us woe. His craft and power are great, and armed with cruel hate, on earth is not His equal.

Did we in our own strength confide, our striving would be losing. Were not the right man on our side, the man of God's own choosing. Dost ask who that may be? Christ Jesus, it is He! Lord Sabaoth His name, from age to age the same and He has won the battle. He has won the battle, with eternal life, eternal life.

And though this world with evil filled, should threaten to undo us, we will not fear, for God has willed His truth to triumph through us.

His word above all earthly powers with God's own strength abideth; The Spirit and the gifts are ours through Him who with us sideth. Let goods and kindred go, this mortal life also. The body they may kill; God's truth abideth still: His kingdom is forever. A strong and mighty fortress is our God!

RAS THANK YOU TO SEAN, CHOIR & ORCHESTRA

RAS: Sean, choir, orchestra, thank you. Beautiful, powerful music, wonderful, wonderful arrangement.

INTERVIEW – BETHANY HAMILTON

RHS: ROBERT HAROLD SCHULLER BH: BETHANY HAMILTON

RHS: Well I'm very honored and happy to have as my guest this morning, somebody that I first met when you first met her and that's when the news broke from Hawaii that this thirteen year old professional surfer had been bitten by a shark that took her arm off right under the shoulder along with a big bite out of her surfboard. It happened in October of 2003 and nearly half of the blood in her body was lost. It's a miracle that they were able to get a tourniquet around a little stump and stop the bleeding. And despite that horrible tragedy, her initial response in the water was one of an amazing calmness that everybody commented on. And they rushed her to the hospital. In the hospital there was a man ready to be operated on. And she came in. And they said to him, I'm sorry, we have an emergency. We have to take a young girl, just had her arm bitten off. It was his daughter. Wow. There's a lot to this story. And she has it out in a book, "Soul Surfer," beautiful picture. I wonder if a camera can get up close on it so you can see it. Are you seeing it? It's phenomenal. She's a wonderful Christian. Let's welcome, Bethany Hamilton. We love you. Thank you. Thank you.

Few people would ever interview you that could feel more of what the pain was like when it happened than Robert Schuller because my daughter was thirteen and a half years old, your age, when this accident happened. And she got thrown in a ditch, motorcycle accident, and they amputated her leg. But she was as positive as you are. But it's pretty hard on your dad and mom. And they've come through it as great as you're coming through it and I really applaud you for that.

BH: Thank you

RHS: You're beautiful. Eyes, cheeks, nose, is that real blonde hair?

BH: Yeah.

RHS: It's beautiful. Are those real teeth braces? They're beautiful. Oh, I'm glad to have you here. Are you enjoying being here today?

BH: Very much.

RHS: You know, why? Why very much. That's nice to hear.

BH: It's so much different than where, like the church I go to. And I love my church and this church, in like, I haven't really been to like an orchestra. It's really fun to be here.

RHS: Good, good. You're wearing, let me move that a bit: "His Death gave me life, God demonstrates His own love for us in this, while we were still sinners, Christ died for us," Romans 5:8. That's fantastic. Well briefly what happened?

BH: Well that morning I paddled out with my friend Alana and her dad and her brother, Byron and Holt. And we were just surfing at this beautiful spot and it was like seven o'clock in the morning and this spot was about a quarter of a mile out. And then the shark just came and attacked me and the shark was fourteen feet long and I lost my arm and right away I knew it. So I just started paddling with one arm and I was like 'I got attacked by a shark' very calmly and then Holt pushed me into a little wave cause we had to get to the shore as soon as possible cause I was losing a lot of blood. And I lost approximately like sixty percent of my blood. And then, like the whole way in I was just praying to God just to like let me live cause I'm like so, young and I just, I don't know.

And when we got to the shore, Holt, Alana's dad tied a leash around my arm as like a tourniquet to stop the blood. And the doctor said that was like an amazing thing that like saved me and it was just like..

RHS: So they took you to the hospital. That was what an hour drive?

BH: Like an hour or two, no, well not an hour or two, but well like, yeah.

RHS: Did you know your dad was in the hospital for surgery?

BH: I knew he was getting knee surgery but at the time I don't remember if I was really thinking about that at the time.

RHS: Your dad is here. I don't know if he's in this service or elsewhere. Is he in church this hour? If you are, stand up so..

BH: Oh, he's up there.

RHS: OH way up there in the balcony, yeah, terrific. Applaud him. Thank you. Wow. I don't think there's any family that was greater in preparation for such an horrific incident than you and your mom and dad and they taught you to surf didn't they?

BH: Yes they did. They taught me when I was about like, they put me on a board when I was two. But I really started surfing when I was like five.

RHS: Wow.

BH: Yeah.

RHS: So, you actually went into contests did you?

BH: Yeah, I did my first contest when I was five and it's just a little kids pushing contest and it was fun.

RHS: And you've won contests?

BH: Yeah.

RHS: So, you're going to continue to keep surfing I'll bet, right?

BH: Definitely.

RHS: Definitely. Well after you had the surgery, and you began thinking about the, you know, the future, amazing that you decided to come back. I have a new book coming out in January called, "Don't Throw Away Tomorrow." Boy you could have thrown away your whole tomorrow right? But you didn't. You decided you were going to go surfing again. But, did you stop and think how in the world would you get on a board with only one arm? Everybody knows in surfing you need two arms to get up on there.

BH: Well I just figured it this way. If people can do like a one hand push up, then I'm sure I can stand up on my board with one hand cause standing up on a board and doing pushups is kind of the same thing except for instead of going back down, you keep going back up. So..

RHS: And all the surfers said.. yeah.

BH: And so when I first got up on my third wave, I knew it right then. I would just continue surfing and just most of all have fun out there.

RHS: That's great. So it's still fun.

BH: Yeah.

RHS: Do you miss the arm when you're surfing?

BH: I get frustrated once in a while but..

RHS: Did you need it for.. do you need it for balance?

BH: My balance isn't as good but it's getting better each day I go back out there.

RHS: Fantastic. Now, what are your goals? What's your future? Don't throw away tomorrow. Don't ever do that. What's your future?

BH: Well I'm only fourteen so I don't know yet, but... I want to go to college, do good in school.

RHS: When did this book come out? I just got mine this week. Is it that new?

BH: Yeah, it's been out for like less than a week.

RHS: Less than a week.

BH: Yeah.

RHS: All over America?

BH: Yeah.

RHS: And it'll be translated later into German, Dutch, Japanese, I understand wow. You know, this picture shows you without a prosthesis. Did you ever try to get a prosthesis?

BH: Yes I did get one but, like my life all's just going to the beach all the time and it just doesn't work for me.

RHS: Right, salt water wouldn't be good for it.

BH: Yeah.

RHS: Wow, hey we have a little surprise for you on the Jumbotron, and let's hear it.

(JUMBO TRON ROLL IN OF WYLAND)

Wyland: Hey this is Wyland here at the Whaling Wall in Destin. Just finished painting the largest mural in the world. And I wanted to congratulate you, Bethany, for being at the Crystal Cathedral with my friend Dr. Robert Schuller. You're awesome, you're inspiring kids all over the world. Keep it up.

(END OF ROLL IN)

RHS: Wow, now, your dad tells me this year you're really into the Bible. Tell me about that.

BH: Well like I haven't, like, my whole life haven't really read the Bible enough. So, when 2004 came around, I just made a resolution that I would read the Bible every day. And I haven't missed one day since.

RHS: Not one day. Wow. That's fantastic. So, what can I give you? A blessing. Dear God, thank You for the way You touched her heart and soul as a baby and as a toddler and as an adolescent, and now a strong teenager and the way You've been in her heart through the accident, giving her calmness and courage and quietness. Thank You for her dad and mom, for her brother. Thank You most of all, Jesus, for what You mean to her. Give her a great tomorrow. Amen. Thank you.

SOLO – NICOL SPONBERG – “Love Will Bring You Home”

Alone, in a world of your own have you really forgotten the love that brought you home? Where did you lose the faith you had? Did you put it into something that has only left you empty inside? My heart is breaking; it's been long enough, patiently waiting for you to look up.

Now my arms are open wide, love is right here by your side. You've never been alone, there's no need for you to hide or understand the reasons why no matter where you go my love will bring you home.

Changed in a moment in time by a single breath from heaven our love was brought to life, and now there is nothing in this earth that can ever come between us. I gave My life to show you what you're worth. So why keep on searching, the answer is clear. All that you're looking for has always been here.

Now my arms are open wide, I am right here by your side, you've never been alone, no, no. There's no need for you to hide or understand the reasons why; no matter where you go My love will bring you home.

Now my arms are open wide, I am right here by your side, you've never been alone, no, no. There's no need for you to hide or understand the reasons why; no matter where you go My love will bring you home. My love will bring you home.

RAS THANK YOU TO NICOL SPONBERG

RAS: Love will bring you home. Thank you, Nicol.

RHS INTRODUCES CCA CHORUS & CAROL ASPLING

RHS: Now the Crystal Cathedral Academy Choir you've probably seen them come in. They are beautiful young people and our Academy here is phenomenal. If you know of children that want to go to a very distinctive school all the way from one through kindergarten through high school, phenomenal and the focus on talent and art and spirit. If you are interested in telling somebody about the school, just ask Carol and Carol I want to ask you now, you've got an upcoming tour, right?

CAROL: Yes we do. The CCA Chorus will be touring to Nashville Tennessee this coming summer for a one week long music camp, culminating with a performance in the Grande Ole Opry house. These singers are working very hard to fund raise their entire tour and we will be having a dinner on the night of our all Church Christmas tree lighting, November 18th and if you are interested in purchasing tickets for that dinner, a wonderful pasta dinner right before the beautiful Christmas tree lighting please check our table out in the plaza we will be here each Sunday to sell the tickets for that dinner as well. It would sure light up their world. And this morning we are going to be singing a song for you called “Light Up the World with a Song.”

RHS: Thank you very much Carol, God bless.

ANTHEM/GUEST CHOIR – CCA CHORUS – “Light Up the World with a Song”

Light up the world with a song of gladness, shout for joy and sing all day long. Take away sorrow and end all sadness, light up the world with a song. A friend may need a helping hand, their path may go astray. But even in the darkest night, our song will guide the way.

Light up the world with a song of gladness, shout for joy and sing all day long. Take away sorrow and end all sadness, light up the world with a song. We bring a song of hope for those who live in fear. We bring a song of peace for all the world to hear. We lift every voice as we sing now the music of life.

Light up the world with a song of gladness, shout for joy and sing all day long. Take away sorrow and end all sadness, light up the world with a song. Light up the world with a song!

RAS THANK YOU TO CAROL & CCA CHORUS

RAS: Thank you Carol, thank you kids for coming and singing for us today. We really, really love the music, love the academy. Aren't they terrific? There's nothing better than listening to children sing.

MESSAGE/PRAYER - ROBERT A. SCHULLER

"Walking in Your Own Shoes – Part II"

RAS: Yeah, we've been going through a series of messages entitled, “Walking in Your Own Shoes” because November 1st this book comes out. This is the actual copy, it is the first one. It's not in bookstores yet. It's at the distribution center currently and its being shipped to the different book stores across the nation. It's entitled “Walking in Your Own Shoes,” and the subtitle is what I really want to point to today is “Discover God's direction for your life.” That's the subtitle. And a lot of books, I would say maybe most books you can really get the true message of the title when you look at the subtitles. Because walking in our own shoes is an important thing for us to do. In fact its so important that not only are we talking about this intangibility, this concept, this philosophy of walking in our own shoes, we're also putting some meat on those bones into creating a tangible message and the tangible things we are doing is we are collecting shoes for children.

I know last week many people brought shoes; in fact we collected two thousand, two hundred pair of shoes last week alone. Isn't that spectacular? So we're going to continue to collect shoes, new shoes, and we're giving them to children. So whatever you can do to help us collect shoes, that is spectacular and if you don't have the means to buy a pair of shoes and give them and you wish us to do that, you can send us a contribution and we'll do that for you because it's our hope to fill this truck. You've seen the truck out there with shoes for kids. If you look inside, there's two thousand, as of yesterday, I should say, there was two thousand two hundred pair of shoes in there. I don't know how many people brought shoes this morning but we're going to fill that truck. So if you have a membership with a service club like Rotary or Kiwanis or Soroptimist or something of that nature, maybe you can encourage them to help us fill this truck with shoes because it's a lot of shoes. So again, thank you for bringing shoes and helping us put shoes on children's feet. That's really important for us.

Talking about shoes, do you know what I did? I was looking at my closet and I found the oldest pair of shoes in my closet. This happens to be the oldest pair of shoes I own. These are literally my shoes. If you notice, the soles are pretty good. That's because I haven't walked very much in these shoes. I have had these shoes for 35 years. Can you believe it? These are not walking shoes. Does anyone recognize what kind of a shoe this is? Does anyone know what kind of a shoe this is? If you know, say so. What is it? Boxing, yeah, they are boxing shoes but also wrestling shoes. I bought them originally for wrestling because I was a wrestler in high school, and I bought these for wrestling and that's why the soles are in perfect shape, because you walk on a pad, you never walk on asphalt or anywhere else, you're just walking on the wrestling mats. And as a result, those soles stay really good in spite of the fact that I would jump rope incessantly. It's what you do when you box and you wrestle. I could jump rope oh really, really good. In fact to this day, I can jump rope as good as I ever could. I can jump rope, I'll bet you a thousand times without missing a single beat. I can go the triples, I can do the crosses, I can do it all and I never miss a beat. I'll bet I can do it for a half hour, 45 minutes, and never miss a beat as long as I don't have a rope in my hands. You know?

And in many ways, that's kind of the way our life can be. The passage I want to give you to remember today is this. The very first verse in Psalm 127, it says this: "If the Lord does not build the house, the builder's labor in vain." Isn't that a powerful verse? "If the Lord does not build the house, the builder's labor in vain." Its vanity, it's for nothing. It's jumping rope without a rope. You're not jumping rope at all. You're pretending to jump rope. If you're building your life without God, you're not living; you're merely existing. That's why the subtitle of the book is discovering God's direction for your life. Putting God into the handiwork of whatever you're doing so that all of your labor is not in vain, its not for vanity, its not just lost, its not just disappeared in the air in your labor. But it has value, it has meaning, it has substance, it has reality.

In 1848 the President of the United States James Polk started a project. It was a monument to the very first president of the United States. And the project began and 25 years later, it was completed. It's an obelisk. It rises five hundred and fifty five feet in the air. That is five thousand, one hundred and twenty five inches. It is and remains and will be unless there is act of congress, the highest structure to ever be built in Washington DC. We know it as the Washington Monument. It overshadows the entire city.

I remember the first time I went up there, my father and I went to Washington DC and we stood in line, and we waited a long time to get on the elevator and we took that elevator up to the very top and from there you can look around and you can see for miles and miles and miles. That's the Washington Monument. When those laborers completed that project of building this incredible architectural landmark, they put an aluminum cap on the very top and on that cap is inscribed seven letters. The letters spell these words: Laus Deo. L-a-u-s D-e-o. They're Latin. And those seven letters and those words is this: Praise be to God! And those words shadow under the highest structures in the capital of this country. I don't know about you, but that makes me very proud. It does, it makes me very proud. That our forefathers, from the beginning have built this country and this nation, founded upon God. That's important. It's important for us to realize that what's taking place in this country is a country that truly witnesses and realizes the hand of God and the need for God.

In II Chronicles we read, “If My people who are called by My name will humble themselves and pray, says the Lord, then I will hear their prayers, I will forgive their sins and I will heal their land.” Here’s the question I have for you: here’s the question. Is your labor done in the hand and the will of God? So that what you do is not there for yourself but for the kingdom of God. Are we kingdom builders, or are we individual builders. Can we look beyond ourselves and discover God’s direction for our life so that we become part of the greater whole, or are we simply looking out for ourselves, looking inwardly and making sure that whatever we do is going to make me better.

Greek mythology takes a look at, and understands this and many of you are familiar with the understanding of narcissists, from which we get the word narcissistic. Those of you who plant gardens, you know that narcissists very well because it’s a beautiful flower. It’s probably one of the most beautiful flowers you can plant in your gardens. But narcissism comes from the word narcissists, which is the name of one of the Greek gods who fell in love with himself and his image, and as a result of that, couldn’t get beyond it and it killed him. Not until we can get beyond narcissism to understanding that there is more to life than ourselves, can we possibly understand the direction that God has for our lives.

Because our text this morning is one that we need to remember, take to heart and take with us on a daily basis so that everything we do is done for the glory of God. “If the Lord does not build His house, the laborers labor in vain.” Maybe a better way to or another way to present this question is to ask it this way. When you go to work tomorrow morning, are you going to work or are you fulfilling God’s destiny for your life? Now what we might realize is that its one in the same thing as far as the physical labor is concerned, its one in the same thing. The difference is strictly a perception in our minds and in our hearts. If you’re going to work and doing a job, you’re going to work and doing a job. On the other hand, you can wake up in the morning and you can say I’m not going to go to work and do a job; I’m going to go to my destiny and fulfill my calling. And then you get out of bed and you do the exact same things but with a different frame of mind and a different concept and a different reality. And you’re living for God with Him being the laborer and allowing Him to give you the direction and the guidance and fulfillment that you wish to desire for your life. It’s walking in your own shoes.

The very first book of the Bible is a book that most people are familiar with, in fact I think it is probably the most commonly read book in the Bible because many people have the good intentions of reading the Bible and never get past the first chapter. Therefore, I think it is the number one read chapter in the Bible: Genesis. I see a bunch of people laughing. Is that a confession? And what’s interesting about the book of Genesis is that the last 13 chapters, about 15% of the very first book in the Bible deals with one man by the name of Joseph. Joseph was one of 12 sons of Jacob, who we also know as Israel. If somebody says who is Jacob, he is Israel, who is Israel, he’s Jacob, they’re both the same guy. He’s got two names.

Joseph was the most favored of Israel, of Jacob. Jacob loved him more than the others, the Bible says. As a result of that, his 11 older brothers didn’t care for that very much. Maybe some of you can realize that. I mean we all, I think just about everybody thinks that mom and dad loves everyone else better than they love me. Right? That’s the way it was with Joseph and his brothers tolerated it to a certain extent until his father goes and buys him this beautiful jacket. Now clothing in the time of the Bible wasn't what it is today. If you buy a piece of clothing, you have that the rest of your life and your entire lifetime you may have only a few pieces of clothing. I know some people are getting really depressed with that thought; I can see it in your eyes. That's the way it was. Clothing was something that was extremely difficult to come by.

And his father gave his son this gorgeous, gorgeous jacket with long sleeves, it says in the Bible. At the same time Joseph is receiving these visions where he sees his brothers and his father and everybody around him bowing down to him. And he wasn't too smart. He went and he shared what his vision was with his brothers. Well that got them mad enough where they decided that they were going to get rid of him and they sold him to some slave traders that were coming by. They take his jacket, they shred it up, they throw some blood on it and then they take it back to their father and say this is what we found of Joseph, the lions and the bears must have gotten him. And they thought him dead.

Well the rest of the Bible goes through Joseph's journey from slavery to imprisonment to death row, to excess, to nothing, back to success again, and concludes with him actually becoming the second most powerful man in the entire world, second only to Pharaoh. Meanwhile there is a famine and his brothers come up to Egypt for food, and guess what they land up doing: they land up bowing before Joseph just as his vision was. And they come and they ask for forgiveness from Joseph for selling him into slavery. And here are the words I want you to hear for this, is powerful words: "And Joseph said to them, do not be afraid. Am I in the place of God? In other words can I judge you? You intended to harm me. But God intended it for good to accomplish what is now being done the saving of many lives. What others have intended for harm, God intends for good." And as we discover the reality of God's promises and His goodness, that when we put God in the center of everything we do, and when we allow God to build His house, this house, our bodies, our souls, our minds, our lives, the work we do is no longer in vain. Regardless of what you do tomorrow morning, regardless of what your labor is, when you put God in that labor, and you no longer decide to go to work and do a job, your labor has tremendous significance in ways you cannot possibly imagine. Because tomorrow morning, you're going to wake up and you're not going to go to work and do a job. You're going to go to your destiny and you're going to fulfill your calling and when God calls, you're going to go. And if people are intending things for harm and they're causing problems in your life and you come here today because you don't know what's going on, maybe you received news this week that you have cancer. Maybe your children have disappeared and you don't know where they are. Maybe you're struggling with your parents and they're having difficulties. They're in a nursing home. You may have buried one of them this week. Wherever God's course takes you, remember that what others intend for harm God intends for good and He's going to lead you and direct you and give you the desires of your heart in ways that you cannot possibly imagine because you are not doing the labor, God is.

You know there are tremendous words in this book, the Bible. And these words have tremendous power for us. And as we hold onto them, and as we realize their beauty for us, we will continue to know God in more beautiful ways. Love people in more unique circumstances and serve the world diligently.

Let us pray: Dear Heavenly Father, we thank You for what You're doing today, tomorrow and always, Amen.

HYMN - "Trust and Obey"

When we walk with the Lord in the light of His Word, what a glory He sheds on our way! While we do His good will, He abides with us still, and with all who will trust and obey. Trust and obey, for there's no other way to be happy in Jesus, but to trust and obey.

BENEDICTION - RAS

RAS: And now may the blessings of God Almighty, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit open your eyes and your heart and your minds to see Him building your life in a unique and a beautiful way, Amen.

ANTHEM - "Prologue in Heaven"

Ave, Ave, Ave, Ave, Ave, Ah! Ah! Ah! Ah! Ah! Ah! Ah! Hail Lord, our God, O Lord of saints and angels, angels and the planets that wander. Lord of the soaring, Lord of the soaring Cherubim of the Heaven, Lord of the soaring Cherubim of the Heaven, from the harmonies eternal of worlds surrounded by azure spaces unbounded. There shall be sounded hymns of perfect love, of perfect love; They rise to Thee through vast and azure regions, from sweet voiced legions. Ave, Ave!
