GOOD MORNING/INVOCATION

RHS: Good morning!

SSC: Good morning.

RHS: Wow we got a great morning today and this is the time to be here because our country needs more hope and the world needs more hope and that's our specialty. We are the institution, the church of Christ, the only institution to bring hope to the world. Right?

SSC: Absolutely do you need hope? Okay you're in the right place.

RHS: So God's steadfast love is around us. Your message today put a tear in my eye and a chunk of hope in my heart Sheila.

SSC: Good. Oh wow, what a word.

RHS: Let's pray: Lord, surprise us with ideas that come, with moods that move into our personalities while we're here. Thank You God that this is Your presence, this is Your reality. We are experiencing You hallelujah, Amen.

HYMN - "Praise to the Lord/He is Exalted"

Praise to the Lord, the Almighty, the God of creation. O my friend, praise Him for He is your health and salvation. To all who hear, now to His temple draw near; join me in glad adoration.

Praise to the Lord, O let all that is in me adore Him. All who have life and breath come now with praises before Him. Let the Amen sound from His people again. Gladly always we adore Him. Praise to God the Almighty!

BETH: Psalm 138 says I praise God with my whole heart, for He is exalted above all things.

He is exalted, the King is exalted on high; I will praise Him. He is exalted, forever exalted and I will praise His name. He is the Lord, forever His truth shall reign. Heaven and earth rejoice in His holy name. He is exalted, the King is exalted on high.

He is exalted, the King is exalted on high; I will praise Him. He is exalted, forever exalted and I will praise His name. He is the Lord, forever His truth shall reign. Heaven and earth rejoice in His holy name. He is exalted, the King is exalted on high.

He is the Lord, forever His truth shall reign. Heaven and earth rejoice in His holy name. He is exalted, the King is exalted on high. He is exalted, the King is exalted on high.

SCRIPTURE – Matthew 5:1-16 - RHS

RHS: You may be seated. And hear the scripture which comes to us this morning from the gospel of Matthew, chapter 5. Jesus spoke these words nearly 2000 years ago. Unbelievably powerful today. No psychologist, no psychiatrist, no doctorate in counseling has ever written words that are more significant, insightful and honest than these. Hear:

Blessed are the poor in spirit for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are the poor in spirit for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are those who mourn for they shall be comforted. Blessed are the meek for they shall inherit the earth. Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness. They shall be filled. Blessed are the merciful for they shall be treated mercifully. Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God. Blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called children of God. Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness sake for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. You are the salt of the earth. You are the light of the world. Let your light so shine before all that they may see your good works and glorify the Father in heaven.

These are the words of Jesus.

ANTHEM - "Blessed are They"

Blessed are the poor in spirit for theirs is the kingdom of heav'n. Blessed are all those who mourn for they will be comforted. Blessed are the meek (blessed are the meek) for they will inherit the earth (for they will inherit the earth). Blessed are they who hunger and thirst for righteousness (for they will be blessed), they will be filled.

Blessed are the merciful for they will be shown mercy. Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God. Blessed are they who make peace for they shall be children of God (children of God). Blessed are they who are persecuted for righteousness for theirs is the kingdom of God. Blessed are they.

If for Jesus' sake, people insult you and persecute you, falsely accuse you. Rejoice, be glad; great is your reward which now awaits you in heaven. Blessed are the merciful (blessed are the merciful). Blessed are the pure, (are the pure in heart). Blessed are they who make peace for they shall be children of God. Blessed are they, blessed are they, blessed are they. Blessed.

INTERVIEW – LUCILLE O'NEAL

RHS: ROBERT H. SCHULLER LO : LUCILLE O'NEAL

RHS: Well how many of you have ever heard of a basketball player named Shaq O'Neal, raise your hand. Well I guess he is world famous isn't he? His mama is here today. Welcome.

LO: God bless you.

RHS: You are tall.

LO: Thank you.

RHS: You know you're an inch taller than I am. My golly you're terrific.

LO: God bless you, Dr. Schuller. I'm glad to be here today.

RHS: Why?

LO: Because I've been watching you on television and I never dreamed that I would be here, get the honor to meet you so I'm blessed to be able to be here and be in this beautiful sanctuary and fellowship with all your church members so I'm happy to be here. God is good.

RHS: You've got a lot of energy.

LO: Yes I do.

RHS: I guess Shaq got a lot of it from you.

LO: Yes he did. We're excited about life right now because God is good.

RHS: Yes He's good even when you don't see the excitement of life.

LO: Just like Campbell's soup, Mmm, Mmm good.

RHS: When did you see that Shaq was distinctive?

LO: Shaquille has been playing basketball since he was six years old.

RHS: Excuse me; I'm sorry I called him Shaq.

LO: I call him Shaquille Rashaun O'Neal.

RHS: Anybody else call him Shaq..

LO: Shaquille Rashaun O'Neal.

RHS: Only mama, right?

LO: I call him by his whole name, but its okay if you call him Shaq. He will answer to Shaq. But I need to tell you from the time Shaquille was born he was a big beautiful baby. He was born 7 lbs and 11 oz however by the time he got school aged he grew a head above his peers.

RHS: What did you feed him those first five years?

LO: I fed him regular food: pablum, cereal, milk, milk does a body good. Milk, milk, plenty of milk.

RHS: Wow, now when did you really realize he was really distinctive, as I said?

LO: I watched Shaquille play for his very first time, well special time on national television when he played in the McDonald's All American game. Do you all remember that special game? And I knew that he could do something special with basketball.

RHS: Did you tell him?

LO: I told him that but it was a dream of his so I encouraged him to continue to hold on to the dream. And that's what he has been doing for his whole entire life.

RHS: Wow. You know you have a great book: Lucille O'Neal "Walk Like you Have Somewhere to Go." It's a terrific book. We have it in the bookstore.

LO: Oh wonderful thank you.

RHS: Where did you get the title?

LO: I grew up in a Holiness church and we had a woman pastor and the woman pastor used to always assign me to do a lot of things that I didn't want to do. Being tall you didn't want to be different. I wanted to be like everybody else so I was very self conscious, very low self-esteem, however she encouraged me by assigning me to do many things. And when she used to call me I think it took too long for me to get to her so she would say 'Lucille, walk like you have somewhere to go.'

RHS: That's great!

LO: And that stayed with me all of these years, all of these years.

RHS: Now, tell me the church that you go to today. I think I have the answer, that's why I'm asking.

LO: I am a member of the Nine Ten church of God in Orlando Florida. It's a small church however God meets us there every time the doors open.

RHS: Yes, that's right. And you've followed the church all your life.

LO: I have. I strayed away at a certain time in my life and the book talks about my journey over forty years from the time Shaquille was born up until the present time. And I call a certain period of my life a mental welfare state of mind so it's my journey from mental welfare to mental wealth. And the mental welfare place is when I looked to every body else for happiness and really didn't realize that God is the source of my strength, my happiness, everything. But now God held onto me. I'm back in a special place. This is my mental wealth state and I'm rich in many ways not having to do with any money.

RHS: Fabulous. You have hurdles and what was the worst hurdle? And let me say you talk about drinking, was a problem?

LO: Drinking was an issue for me because it started out as social drinking but when you have an excess of dollars you can buy an excess supply of alcohol. However, it got to a certain time in my life I got tired of drinking, got tired of being sick, got tired of having a hangover, got tired of losing my memory and I prayed to God and asked Him to take that from me. I didn't want to embarrass my children, especially Shaquille because the world was watching our family. I lost my identity. Instead of calling me Lucille they would say Shaq's mama. I did not want anybody to say look at Shaq's mama with her drunk self. God delivered me from alcohol and He put me in a place where I can talk to young people about alcohol. We don't have to be in that place. God has a place for us and it was my mother that taught me God has a master plan for our lives, but I told God when I was twelve I wanted to be a motivational speaker. So I only talk to people about what I know about and I can tell you about alcoholism and I can tell you that God will deliver from that.

RHS: So if people have a convention and want an inspiring speaker they can connect with you?

LO: Absolutely!

RHS: You're terrific. Here is the book. I want them to get a good shot of it: Lucille O'Neal, forward by Shaquille O'Neal.

LO: Yes, thank you.

RHS: Thank you for writing it. Thank you for the mother you are. "Walk Like You Have Somewhere to Go." You have somewhere to go, where is it?

LO: I'm going about my Father's business each and every day of my life. That's where I'm going.

RHS: Thank you.

LO: Higher and higher. God bless you, God bless you.

RHS: Thank you, thank you.

MESSAGE/PRAAYER – SHEILA SCHULLER COLEMAN

"Job Search: Where is God When the World Falls Apart"

SSC: Well as most of you know, as a pastor we get requests for prayers. I get e-mails. I get messages via Facebook, and I get letters. And one of the most frequently asked prayers these days are for jobs. People are saying 'Sheila, pray that I'll get a job.' This is the letter I received this past week and I just wanted to read it to you.

Dear Sheila: My first job was working in an orange juice factory but I got canned. I couldn't concentrate. Then I worked in the woods as a lumberjack but I just couldn't hack it so they gave me the axe. After that I tried to be a tailor but I just wasn't suited for it. Maybe because it was just a sew, sew job. Feel free to boo if you want to. These are kind of groaners. This is what my husband loves the most. He loves these kind of puny jokes.

Next I tried working in a muffler factory but that was exhausting. I wanted to be a barber but I just couldn't cut it. Then I tried to be a chef, figured it would add a little spice to my life but I just didn't have the thyme. Thyme. Finally I attempted to be a deli worker but any way I sliced it I couldn't cut the mustard. Good dad. My best job was being a musician but eventually I found I wasn't noteworthy. I studied a long time to be a doctor but I didn't have any patients. I managed to get a good job working for a pool maintenance company but the work was just too draining. Next I found being an electrician interesting but the work was shocking. After many years of trying to find steady work, I finally got a job as a historian until I realized there was no future in it. My last job was working at Starbuck's but I had to quit because it was always the same old grind. So Sheila, can you pray that God will help me find the perfect job? Signed searching.

Obviously that was not a real letter, but you know what? Don't we all want to have the perfect job? Don't we all want to have today just any job? Don't we want to have a job that will have meaning that will have purpose that we look forward to going to come Monday morning?

Well today the lack of jobs and boy do you follow the unemployment rate like I do? They are saying the economy now and most of our trials are about the jobs, making sure there are enough jobs. And I'll bet you if you were looking at my message title today, you thought my message title was this: "Job Search: Where is God when the World Falls Apart?" But you know what job search is one part of the problem. We have so many trials we're facing today. It's not just lack of jobs, but its also ruptured relationships. Those are the other letters and e-mails I get. Pray for me, I've heard it from mothers. Pray for me, I have a daughter who hasn't spoken to me in 15 years. Others, dire diagnosis. Got a Facebook message from a young man. He was sitting in a doctor's office in the UK, of all places, and he said "Sheila, I'm reading your father's book, 'Turning Your Hurts into Halos.' I'm waiting to get the news whether my wife has this very aggressive form of breast cancer or not. But your father's book is keeping me sane. Will you please let him know?" And he said "we've had so many trials, so many trials but this one I'm really, really worried about." And I sent him a note, I sent him a prayer and I heard back from him and yes, the diagnosis was not what he hoped it would be, not what we prayed, but he still is looking to God. And this man has so many trials but he still continues to say I want to turn my hurts into halos with God's help.

Some of you are looking and saying will I be homeless? Where am I going to find and I'm running out of money to pay my mortgage payment. I'm running out of money to pay my rent. I don't have the money to pay the insurance on my automobile and that's where I sleep these nights. I talk with many of you and I pray with many of you and that is the scenario in which many of us find ourselves in these days. And what comes with that. I feel burdened today to talk to you about the shame, whether we say it or not, whether we share it with anybody or not, but the shame we feel because an embarrassment. We aren't as successful as we thought we would be. And our self-esteem and what we think of ourselves and what other people think of us because we used to be successful and now we're not. We used to be able to put a roof over our heads and now we're not. We used to have a loving relationship with a family member and now we don't. And what's gone wrong? Why isn't it getting any better? It must be something that I've done wrong, it must be something that our politicians have done wrong, it must be something that we as a society have done wrong and God is punishing us. Have you ever thought that? Has anybody ever said to you 'well maybe if you did things a little differently.' 'Maybe if you repented.' 'Maybe if you went back and apologized and got down on your knees and you said Lord, I'm sorry. Maybe then things would get better.' Have you heard that from anybody?

Well my message title really is not Job Search: Where is God When the World Falls Apart? My message title is Job Search: Where is God When the World Falls Apart. Because you see Job teaches us so many lessons about what God wants us to know when our world falls apart. And Job did the searching for us. And the answers are found in the book of Job, and especially when you add Romans and put that side by side. Where is God when the world falls apart? Where is He? And is He doing this to punish me? Is this because of something that I've done wrong, something I've neglected to do? Maybe if I had a better financial plan, maybe if I'd managed my money better, maybe if I had put more in savings, maybe if I put the savings somewhere else. Maybe if I'd spent more time, all those what if's I could have done it differently if I'd done this differently, if I'd done that differently, I wouldn't be where I am today.

Well let's look at Job. Let's look at Job today because in Job, Job was a righteous man. Job 1 says the Lord looked over the entire world to find His best guy, His most righteous, His most faithful. And who did He find? Job. And He says to Satan and the word Satan means accuser, but the Lord says to Satan have you seen My servant Job? He is the finest man in all the earth. He's a good man. He fears God and will have nothing to do with evil. Now Job was sitting on top of the world. He had all of these servants, he had many livestock, he was very honored. He had a great reputation amongst his people. And he had wealth. He had everything a man could want.

And so Satan replies to the Lord and he says well why shouldn't he be faithful to You, God, I mean look how well You've paid him. Take away his wealth, take away his family and see how he curses You to Your face. And the Lord said he had great faith in His Job. He had great faith in him and He said go ahead. Go ahead. I give you permission. I will remove My hedge of protection and I will give you permission to test My son Job because I believe in him.

And so Satan does. God had one condition. You cannot touch his life. You must spare him his life. And so Job loses everything. First the livestock, then the servants, and then his children. They're all killed. He loses everything. And if that's not bad enough, then he has boils all over his body. And Job mourns, oh he mourns. It says he covered himself, he sat in the ashes which was a way of saying I repent Lord and I mourn and I'm just ashes.

But I love these chapters because it's so powerful to see the depth of Job's pain. He says oh its better that I should die. Come and take me Lord. Why was I born? In fact, somebody go to the calendar and cross off my birthday. Whoa is me that I was ever born. I am in so much pain. I am in so much pain. The will to die was stronger than the will to live, as dad would say. Job was so depressed. Have any of you felt like that? Have any of you woken up and said I wish I'd never been born? Or prayed for death because the pain is so deep, the depression, the shame. And as Job is sitting there in agony he never curses his Lord. Even his wife came to him and she said Job, why are you still praising your God? Why are you still faithful to Him? Look what He's done to you. And you know what he said to his wife? He said get away from me, you heathen woman. He said no I will not turn my face to God because, he says to her, when I was born, I was born with nothing. I was born naked, he says and when I die, I will die with nothing. He said the Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away. Blessed be the name of the Lord. That's what Job's response was to his wife.

But he sits there in pain and in agony and he continues to go on for chapter after chapter about how depressed he is and how he would rather die than live and he curses the day he was born. And finally after about seven days of that, his friends come to him and they sit around him and they say well Job, the reason, there must be something you did wrong because that's how God is, don't you know? Doesn't God care for those who are good? If you're good, you get good things. And if you get bad things, you must be bad or have done something bad so get on your knees and repent Job and God will restore everything to you.

Job listens to those friends, one after another after another, similar advice. Go to God and confess your sins, says the last one. Do not despise God's correction because God will restore your losses if you do that. Job says what did I do wrong? What did I do wrong? Why should I? What have I done to deserve all of this? What have I done?

We have here on our campus a statue of Job and I would encourage you to go and see it today after the service. It has four verses engraved on the base because these are Job's four responses. The Lord gave and the Lord has taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord. Another of his replies was I know that my redeemer lives. Another one: though He slay me, I will trust Him. And the last, when He has tried me, I shall come forth as gold. That was Job's response. Did Job have pain? Yes. But Job never turned his back on God. And then, God speaks. God comes into the picture and He says to these well meaning friends, no, no, no, no, no, you guys have got it all wrong. Job has these trials not because he's done anything wrong, he has these trials so that My glory will be revealed.

And in Job 38, write that down, Job 38, if you ever want to know the majesty, the depth and the power of God Almighty, it is described most vividly in Job 38. The Lord spoke to Job out of the storm and He said who is this that obscures My plans with words without knowledge. Prepare to defend yourself. I will question you and you will answer Me. Where were you when I, the God Almighty, laid the earth's foundation? Tell me if you understand. Who marked off its dimensions? Surely you know. Who stretched a measuring line across it? On what words footing set or who laid its cornerstone while the morning stars sang together and all the angels shouted for joy. Who shut up the sea behind doors when it burst forth from the womb? It continues to go, and it's just absolutely one of the most beautiful, beautiful descriptions of God's power.

You see, humility is not thinking less of ourselves, but its thinking more of God. Where was God? He was there all the time. This great big powerful God. When you're going through your trials that seem to have no end, where is God? He is there with you. He has not abandoned you. And are you going through these trials because you deserve them? Absolutely not. God does not punish us. Do we make mistakes? Absolutely yes. But Jesus came. We have a redeemer. He loves us. He saves us.

But there are times when God allows us to go through trials so His glory will be revealed, just like in Job because Job stayed faithful, He'd stayed faithful and God was so honored by Job. And you and I, we can do that. In fact, I want to say to you, there have been times when I've read e-mails and I've seen the blogs in the press, and some of the comments made. Sheila, you know you and Crystal Cathedral are having your trials because of this, or because of that. And there was a night when I read them and I was really particularly hurt by them, and I cried myself to sleep and I said Lord, Lord, Lord help me. And He said to me, Sheila, they're well meaning friends. They're well meaning friends but they're not right. I'm allowing you to go through these trials so My glory will be revealed.

There is a man who has honored his God, who has stood up for Him throughout the whole world and he had honor in his younger days, and he had respect and he had success beyond measure. And today some of that has been called into question but I will tell you that even though the press has not been kind and even though there are people who call and question us, my father every time he drives off of this property, he asks my mom to drive past the Job statue. And he says to her, "Arvella, though he slay me, I will still trust in Him." And I just want to say that our trials are there so God's glory will be revealed and dad has honored his heavenly father.

People, Satan is the great accuser and he will try to tell you even through well meaning friends, that you deserve the trials that you're in today and that is a lie. That is a lie. The truth is that Job's job and Bob's job, is one in the same. And it's the same for you and me. It's to praise God. It's to praise God no matter what.

Let us pray: Lord Jesus Christ, thank You that we have a Redeemer and thank You that You came to show us how big and powerful and loving our God is. Thank You for believing in us, thank You that when You looked over the world You saw a faithful man Job, when You looked over the world You saw a faithful man, Robert, and oh Lord, thank You that they have modeled for us a faith that we can learn from. It is in Your name we pray, amen.

HYMN - "To God be the Glory"

To God be the glory great things He has done. So loved He the world that He gave us His Son Who yielded His life an atonement for sin and opened the life gate that all may go in.

Praise the Lord, praise the Lord, let the earth hear His voice. Praise the Lord; praise the Lord let the people rejoice. O come to the Father through Jesus the Son and give Him the glory great things He has done.

Praise the Lord; praise the Lord let the earth hear His voice. Praise the Lord; praise the Lord let the people rejoice. O come to the Father through Jesus the Son and give Him the glory great things He has done.

BENEDICTION - RHS

RHS: Thank you, Sheila Schuller Coleman. Thank you, my dearest friends, for coming here today. Not only have you received spiritual input, you gave it to me and I thank you.

And so now may the Lord bless you and keep you and make His face to shine upon you. He has. He is in this moment and will until you come to stand before Jesus in that day in which there is no sunset and no dawning, amen.
